

Paige Hays, Therapy Services, LLC

Individualized, Pediatric Occupational Therapy Services
In Your Home to Meet Your Needs

Who I am

Personally, I am a mother, an adoptive parent, and a special needs parent. Professionally, I am an occupational therapist with extensive experience and expertise in working with children who have developmental needs. I strive to provide exceptional services. By working directly with families, I have the freedom to collaborate with parents to create individualized plans for each family.

What I Do

I listen to families, teach parents, and play with a purpose.

I provide in-home, pediatric occupational therapy services. My goal is to provide individualized, short-term treatment and parent training, while continuing to be a resource long-term as your family's needs change. I want to teach parents to meet their children's unique needs at each stage of development through play-based and real-life intervention methods.

Honest advice and realistic guidance from a mother and professional with expertise in working with children who have developmental needs.

Hours: 8am-8pm, Monday-Saturday (evenings & weekends have additional charges)

Service area: South metro (travel charge will apply outside of this area)

Payment: Private pay only (no health insurance accepted)

Cost: $75/hr of service, including both direct and indirect time. A typical session would cost about $100.

How to Start

Just send me an email or voicemail about your needs. I will call or email you back for a short conversation (free) about your concerns to see if my services could help your family.
